ALLEGAN STATE GAME AREA

WILDLIFE & GAME AREA - STATE LAND RULES

Excerpt from REGULATIONS OF LANDS ADMINISTERED BY THE MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF NATURAL RESOURCES

This excerpt contains rules relevant to State Lands other than State Parks and Recreation Areas; for details on State Parks and Recreation areas, review the complete regulations. Effective October 18, 2001. By authority conferred on the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) by section 504 of 1994 PA 451, MCL 324.504.

In 1964, the Michigan Department of Natural Resources created the Allegan State Game Area by combining the Allegan State Forest, the Swan Creek Wildlife Experiment Station, and the Fennville State Game Area. The 50,000-acre unit provides a wide variety of recreation for everyone with an outdoor interest - for a quick visit, a relaxing picnic, a hike, or a longer stay.

The Game Area is located in the oak and pine dominated sandy lakeplain ecosystem of west-central Allegan County between Allegan and Fennville, about 10 miles east of Lake Michigan. Highway M-89 crosses the area from east to west, and the Kalamazoo River flows northwesterly through the area to Lake Michigan. The Allegan State Game Area may be reached from I-196 via the Glenn, Fennville, and Holland exits, and from US-131 via the Hopkins, Allegan, and Otsego exits.

Every season offers a wealth of recreational opportunities: hunting in the spring, fall, and winter; camping, hiking, and swimming during the warm months; and dog sledding, cross-country skiing, and snowmobiling in the winter. Fishing opportunities are available during all seasons. There are many opportunities for outdoor experiences in small or larger groups.

If you desire an outdoor stay, two rustic campgrounds are provided with picnic tables, vault toilets, and drinking water. During spring and summer, camping is limited to designated campsites in campgrounds. The south loop of Pine Point Campground has four sites set aside for use by scout, church, and school groups. Campgrounds are administered by the Allegan County Parks Department, contact phone: (616) 673-0378, or the Allegan Co. Direct-Dial Directory Index at phone: (616) 673-8470.

Day visitors can take advantage of the area trail system, varying from short hikes to all-day events. Hiking trails extend four miles along both sides of Swan Creek, and three more miles cross-country connect Ely Lake and Pine Point campgrounds. The Northwest Trail extends the trail system an additional five miles. These marked trails may be used in all seasons, but they are especially beautiful in the spring when the flowering dogwood is in blossom, and in early autumn after frost.

Other recreational activities abound. Swimming is available in Swan Creek Pond and Ely Lake. Canoeing on the Kalamazoo River from the Allegan (Calkins) Dam to New Richmond or Saugatuck is a rewarding experience. Special use areas for dog sleds and horseback riding have been designated. A snowmobile route crosses the Game Area. A cross-country ski trail is available. The area even offers inviting scenery from the car window during relaxing fall-color tours in the countryside.

The Game Area offers a wide variety of fish and game to the sportsman. Waterfowl hunters have an opportunity to hunt geese at the Fennville Farm Unit, three miles south of Fennville. Waterfowl hunting is also available in the Bravo Unit, the Highbanks Unit, the Ottawa and Koopman Marshes, along the Kalamazoo River, and along Swan and Bear creeks.

The small game season offers pheasant, rabbit, and woodcock hunting at the Farm Unit and ruffed grouse, squirrel, and woodcock hunting on the remainder of the Game Area. Deer may be taken during the southern Michigan firearm, muzzleloading, and archery seasons. Raccoons are abundant throughout the lowland forest.

The Department of Natural Resources reintroduced wild turkeys into the state in 1954 on the Allegan State Game Area. In November of 1965, after establishment of a stable flock, the first modern day Michigan season for wild turkeys was held. Hunting for turkeys now takes place each year.

Game fishing offers other outdoor fun. Trout may be caught in Swan, Sand, Bear, and Silver creeks. Pike and panfish are caught in Swan Creek Pond. Panfish are taken in Little Tom Lake, and panfish and bass are available in Ely Lake. Salmon and steelhead are caught in the Kalamazoo River and Swan, Bear, and Sand creeks during their annual spawning runs.

Wild blueberries, strawberries, blackberries, and mushrooms occur throughout the Game Area in season. Always use care when sampling nature's produce – please inspect and know anything you sample. If you have questions, ask the area office.

Camera and binocular “hunters” are invited and encouraged to use the Game Area. Bird watchers enjoy the spring and fall migrations of waterfowl, warblers, and many other birds. Some fortunate ones may glimpse the courtship antics of wild turkeys and ruffed grouse. Thousands of Canada geese and mallards and an occasional bald eagle may be seen from October through March on the Farm Unit and in the Swan Creek Marsh west of the Kalamazoo River along M-89. Cameras are welcome, but all visitors must respect the Wildlife Refuge borders and limits – remember it's unlawful to enter.

More detailed maps and additional information are available from the Allegan State Game Area Headquarters, at address: 4590 - 118th Avenue, Allegan, MI 49010, and at phone:(616) 673-2430, or on the internet at the Michigan Department of Natural Resources website at “ <http://www.michigan.gov/dnr>”.
